Dear Clients of McNally Law S.C.:

After providing nearly 35 years of high-quality legal services throughout Southeastern Wisconsin to valued clients, like you, and with the passing of the last of its founding partners, McNally Law S.C. will no longer be providing legal services as of April 21, 2023. We have appreciated the opportunity to represent you and provide legal services to you on behalf of McNally Law S.C.

With the closure and dissolution of McNally Law S.C. comes your opportunity to continue your legal work with one of the two remaining partners of McNally Law S.C., Thomas A. Strandberg or James S. Swiderski, or with a different law firm altogether. The choice of who should provide your legal services is and will remain yours for all current and future legal matters.

Thomas A. Strandberg will transition and continue his estate planning, tax and business succession planning practices with the Brookfield office of Amundsen Davis, LLC. James S. Swiderski will transition and continue his business law, real estate and employment law practices with the Menomonee Falls law firm of Niebler, Pyzyk, Carrig, Jelenchick & Hanley LLP.

If you would like either Tom or Jim to continue handling your legal matters at their respective new law firms, please check the appropriate box on the following page and sign and date it indicating your desire to transfer your client files. If you would like a new attorney at a different law firm to handle your legal matters, please check the box on the following page, provide the new attorney's name, firm name, address, phone number and e-mail address of the new attorney, and sign and date it indicating your desire to transfer your client files to the new law firm. Whatever you select, you may return the signed page to either Tom or Jim electronically via electronic mail or via U.S. postal mail. If your response is sent prior to April 21, 2023, please direct it to Tom or Jim at McNally Law (contact information on the following page); if your response is after that date, please send it to them at their respective new law firms.

If you have any questions regarding the transition of your client files, please do not hesitate to contact either Tom or Jim at McNally Law (contact information on the following page) through April 21, 2023, or at their new law firms as of April 24, 2023:
